JOIN US AS A SPONSOR.

This year's event builds on the past seven years of presenting the very popular Rainwater Revival—part education, part festival, all good fun.

The Rainwater Revival + Hill Country Living Festival will draw on that success and make the natural next step to present the broader concept of living lightly, responsibly and beautifully in the Texas Hill Country. Rainwater harvesting is foundational to this idea, and now we are expanding to include new categories of vendors, exhibitors, partners, sponsors, speakers and activities. We want to bring awareness to the essence of growth that recognizes the carrying capacity of the region.

We know the population of the Hill Country will increase dramatically within the next 10 to 20 years. Let's work together to assure smart growth and respect for the very things we love about the Hill Country—clean water, natural landscapes, star-filled night skies, and a community of good neighbors.

I invite you to help us deliver information and ideas for a better way forward by sponsoring this year's Rainwater Revival + Hill Country Living Festival. We need the ideas, expertise, and leadership of groups like yours to reach an interested and growing audience in the most engaging way possible. Thank you!
