

Do you want to create meaningful experiences and memories that last a lifetime?

The Hill Country Alliance (HCA) is offering an interpretation class that will help you connect the minds and hearts of your audience to the beauty of nature and the mysteries of history.

The more hearts we touch, the more minds we inspire, the better the future for our Hill Country.

Certified Interpretive Guide Training Workshop #8

When: Monday through Thursday, November 30 - December 3, 2015
10:00am - 6:00pm

Where: Wild Basin Creative Research Center
805 N. Capitol of Texas Highway, Austin, TX 78746

What: Hill Country Alliance, in partnership with the National Association for Interpretation (NAI), is offering a course for anyone who delivers messages about natural, cultural or historic sites or who would like to more effectively connect with audiences of any size about the importance of protecting natural resources.

This 32-hour class will teach you to:

- Emotionally connect the audience with the presentation topic.
- Use recent research on social behavior and learning.
- Tailor programs for diverse audiences and various learning styles.
- Improve communication and presentation skills.
- Design and practice a full presentation by the end of the course.

Instructor: Clark Hancock, Certified Interpretive Trainer clktemhan@me.com or call (512) 507-1627.

Cost: Course only: $245; Course with NAI Certification: $375; fees include materials

Only 12 seats available - Learn more and Register Online

hillcountryalliance.org