Moving Forward in the Wimberley Valley

November 18, 2018
2:00-5:00 pm
Wimberley Community Center

Feeling stymied these days when it comes to making good things happen in the Valley? Do you wonder if what we treasure about the Valley is slipping away? The secret to creating the future we desire is drawing on the strengths of the past.

Remember what happened after the Memorial Day flood? Everyone pitched in with whatever they had to contribute and together transformed the community. What if we applied that kind of generous creativity to moving the Valley forward now?

At 7th Generation Labs we've discovered numerous bold ideas being floated around the Wimberley Valley as solutions. Join us to explore the ones that draw your attention.

1. Community Weavers: Learn what it takes to weave an idea into reality
Conversation Hosts: Susan Raybuck and Ellen Evans
2. Explore the Valley's Bests: Discover what makes Wimberley so unique and how to amplify it
Conversation Hosts: Ray Helm and DuAnne Redus
3. Intergenerational Incubator: Imagine a space where residents of all ages can discover, design, and deliver their unique contributions in a new economy
Conversation Hosts: Bill Nestlerode and Wimberley Valley Youth
4. VoxPop: Record your stories about what you treasure about the Valley or the wishes you hold for the future
Conversation Hosts: Shiila Safer, Dan Gauthier, and Wimberley Valley Radio hosts
5. Learning from the Past: Create a timeline of contributions that have created what we enjoy today (include your own!)
Conversation Hosts: Wimberley Valley Elders
6. Learning from the Future: explore wishes for the health and vitality of the Valley
Conversation Hosts: Wimberley Valley Youth
7. Clean, Clear and Flowing Water: Foster synergy across water protection efforts
Conversation Hosts: David Baker and Louie Bond
8. Create your own Adventure: Get coaching on how to create your own adventure!
Conversation Host: Stephanie Nestlerode

Enjoy the Rolling Oaks jammers, savory BBQ, homemade desserts and local coffee.

Walk away with a renewed sense of possibility for the Valley's future. And your role in it!
