

For Immediate Release

Hill Country Alliance, AgriLife, and Gillespie County Partners Host Kolaches and Conservation Event

(September 3, 2019) — On Tuesday, September 17th, the Gillespie County AgriLife Extension and partners will host the second “Kolaches and Conservation” event at the Extension Office from 8:30 am – 10:30 am.

This informal event encourages landowners who have questions about wildlife habitat, trees, riparian management, the hunting season, soil health, farming, ranching, and controlling non-native, invasive plants and animals to stop by and talk with officials from Texas A&M AgriLife Extension and Forest Service, the Gillespie County Soil & Water Conservation District, Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, and Hill Country Alliance.

Brad Roeder, Gillespie County Extension Agent, notes, “AgriLife is looking forward to working with local partners to host this fun, relaxed event to share tools and resources for landowners in Gillespie County.” Coffee, kolaches, and educational resources will be available.

“Good land stewardship benefits everyone, not only today but also the future generations that will inherit or acquire the land,” said Daniel Oppenheimer, Hill Country Alliance Land Program Manager. “Coffee, kolaches, and good conversation—what’s not to like?”

Landowners are invited to come and go as they like. The event is open to anyone interested in conservation and land stewardship.

The Gillespie County AgriLife Extension Office is located at 95 Frederick Road.

The Hill Country Alliance is a nonprofit organization whose purpose is to raise public awareness and build community support to preserve the natural resources and heritage of the Central Texas Hill Country. Visit us at www.hillcountryalliance.org.

###

Contact: Daniel Oppenheimer, Land Program Manager
Hill Country Alliance
daniel@hillcountryalliance.org
210 287 0478