

ADDRESSING CONFLICT WITH DEER IN OUR COMMUNITIES

AN INTERACTIVE AND ENGAGING WORKSHOP

May 29, 2015

Texas State University

LBJ Student Center Ballroom

109 Student Center Drive. San Marcos, 78666

7:45 Doors Open

8:30 Welcome & Introductions, Introduction to Audience Response Tools

Presentations

- Do you have a problem? Do you really have a problem? Evaluating your situation and measuring success. Kevin Schwausch, Technical Guidance Biologist
- Why Neighborhood Deer Thrive (Deer 101). Dr. Floyd Weckerly, Professor of Biology, Texas State University
- Communication Strategies. Dr. Clark Adams, Professor of Wildlife Sciences, Texas A&M University
- Building Consensus within a community.
- Community Highlight: Real World Examples of Community Management for Deer

Catered Lunch

- Using Turning Point to increase engagement during wildlife conflicts. Jessica Alderson, Urban Wildlife Biologist
- Real World Answers on Management Solutions
- Economics of Management Options
- Community Highlight #2: Real World Examples of Community Management for Deer
- Regulation versus Management responsibility. Alan Cain, White-tailed Deer Program Leader
- Behavioral Motivations: Why do people do what they do? Kelly Conrad Simon, Urban Wildlife Biologist
- Management Tools A-Z (Covenants, Ordinances, landscape recommendations, and more). Rufus Stephens, Hill Country Wildlife District Leader
- Roundtable Discussion with Speaker Panel

5:15 Adjourn

Space is limited! Early registration ends May 8

Lunch is included with $55 registration

Register today at www.bit.ly/urbandeer

